Class Meets
Mrs. E. S. Towson was hostess Wednesday evening to the members of the Girls' Friendly Class of Christ Episcopal Church at her home on Bononi avenue. The hours were spent in sewing for the Christmas bazaar to be held next week, and refreshments were served.

Splendid Success
The turkey dinner served last evening by the Presbyterian Legion in the social rooms of the church was a splendid success and was attended by hundreds of people who thoroughly enjoyed a delicious meal efficiently served. The tables were filled shortly after the doors were opened. The bazaar held in connection with the dinner was well patronized, and the ladies had for sale a large number of pretty and useful hand-made articles and cakes and candies, a lot of which had ready sale. The booths were attractively arranged in the ladies' parlor, and hundreds of people visited this feature of the affair.

Bazaar Opens
The Temple Guild of the M. P. Temple opened its Christmas bazaar today and will continue it tomorrow in the Knight Wall Paper Store on Cleveland avenue. A lovely collection of hand-made articles suitable for Christmas gifts is on sale.

To Des Moines
Mrs. Paul W. Lange has gone to Des Moines, Iowa, where she is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Addison Parker, and family.

Poinsettia Luncheon
One of the prettiest of the early winter social affairs was a luncheon at the Country Club today, at which Mrs. Tusca Morris was hostess to honor her sister, Mrs. Houston. Gifts of poinsettias, who is her guest. Christmas gifts were artistically used in the decorations about the club, house, and large baskets of poinsettias and freesia centered the serving tables, while poinsettias were placed at each cover as favors. A course luncheon was served. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Charles Denton of Harrison, Tenn., the guest of Mrs. Emma Burt, and Mrs. L. J. Pack of Greensboro, Pa., the guest of Mrs. W. J. Eddy.

To Attend Dance
Miss Mary Hartley Greer will be a guest at the Phi Sigma Kappa dance to be held at Morgantown this evening.

Interesting Meeting
The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held an interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in the social rooms of the church on Walnut avenue. Group No. 6, of which Mrs. T. L. Henderson is the leader, was in charge of the program. The topic for discussion was "India" and various phases of the subject were discussed by Mrs. A. B. Spurgeon, Mrs. C. E. Mumford, Mrs. E. N. Eddy. A pleasing feature was a solo prettily sung by Miss Mary Olive Eddy. The hostesses were Mrs. R. W. Holbert and Mrs. George Johnson. An enjoyable social hour followed the program.

Guests at Ball
Miss Mona Simon and her guest, Miss Helen Aaron of Altoona, Pa., were guests at the assembly hall held at the Waldo Hotel last week. While in Clarksburg they were guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Charles Shuttlesworth, and Mr. Shuttlesworth.

To Hold Bazar
The Ladies Aid Society of the Barrackville M. E. Church will hold a bazar and bake sale Friday afternoon and evening, December 15, at the church at Barrackville.

Pledges Announced
The members of the Morgantown chapter of Torch and Serpent, an inter-fraternity ribbon society, have announced the following pledges: Lysander Dudley, Gus Ekberg, Mose Darst, Paul Mason, Charles Love, Charles Ditcher, Ray Bryan, Harper Meredith, Richard Cole, Wilbur Hoffer, man Harrison, Conaway, Cassell Mowery, Donald Conley, Howard Klotzmeier, Fred Graham, Keith McClung, Robert Pollock, Albert Bray, Robert Ferguson and Paul Stinebeck.

Dr. E. J. VanLiere and Dean H. E. Stone were the faculty members elected.

Smith's Saxophone Orchestra of Louisville, Ky., will furnish the music for their annual dance, which will be held on December 15. One hundred invitations have been issued.

sued and an invitation has been extended to each member of the football squad. — Morgantown Post.

Club Entertained
The Main Street Book Club was delightfully entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Rosier on Bononi avenue. A buffet supper was served at 6 o'clock for twelve guests, and following the dinner an interesting discussion of a number of books and periodicals was had. An interesting feature of the evening was a reading by Mrs. E. P. Henderson, entitled "Christmas Carols." An out-of-town guest present was Mrs. Houston Gott Young of Charleston, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Tusca Morris, at her home on Fairmont avenue.

To Have Bake Sale
In connection with a bazar and parcel post sale in progress at the Kelley Music Store by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church, a bake sale will be held tomorrow, at which time cakes, pies, bread and candies will be for sale. The bazar will remain open at night also in order to give those who cannot visit it in the daytime an opportunity to do so.

Birthday Party
Mrs. Harry Speigle and Mrs. Lloyd Fortney were hostesses to a number of their friends on last evening at the home of the latter, the affair being arranged to celebrate the birthdays of the two hostesses. A 6 o'clock dinner was served, following which the evening was spent in a social way. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Jones, Mrs. Robert Morgan, Emma Bell Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fortney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Speigle, Rachel Fortney and Ruth Nichol.

WOMAN'S PLOT TO HAVE HER HUSBAND KILLED REVEALED

Detective Poses as Gunman to Get Offer of $20,000 to Murder N. J. Ford.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 8.—Mrs. May Blenn Ford solicited the services of a gunman to kill her wealthy husband, N. J. Ford, offered the gunman $20,000 for the job and gave him a photograph of her husband to make sure that the right man was slain, according to the sworn statements of four detectives whose investigation resulted in Mrs. Ford's detention today on a charge of attempting to commit murder.

Denying the charge, Mrs. Ford declared she was the victim of "a frame-up" that grew out of her domestic difficulties. These difficulties include a suit for divorce, filed last August, in which she charges cruelty and a suit asking $25,000 damages of her estranged husband, for alleged assault.

Mrs. Ford was arrested last night when it was alleged she was about to meet Edward Kutnath, a detective lieutenant, for a second conference on her reported plans for the slaying of her husband. Kutnath, it was said, posed as "a Kansas City gunman" Wednesday night when the alleged plot was first revealed by Mrs. Ford.

The first meeting, according to the detectives, took place in an apartment, especially rented for that purpose. Three detectives claim to have overheard the conversation in which the woman is said to have gone over the details with Kutnath.

Several plans for the killing were presented by Mrs. Ford, the officers declared. One, they said, was that he be shot in his farm home west of Detroit, and the others were that he be shot or strangled while working about the barns, the body to be burned in a haystack.
